 ISSUED WEEKLY.
 R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The American hog can now go to Germany.

The educated Chinese class demand the withdrawal of foreign missionaries from that country.

The constitution repairers are still talkative, and it will require at least three weeks for them to have their say.

J. S. Durham was appointed minister to Hayti in the place of Fred Douglass. Durham is a Kentucky negro.

In the Tennessee legislature one Senator called another "an infamously liar." Friends prevented a fight.

The ladies connected with the management of the World's Fair are decidedly opposed to opening the Fair on Sunday.

The Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland threatens to withdraw unless Charles Wescott refuses the chairmanship of the State committee.

An educated Arkansas negro, Dr. J. R. Riley, in an address before the Palmer Club of Washington said: "The magnanimity shown to colored office holders by Mr. Cleveland and his administration was without parallel."

Mr. Clay's suggestion that the railroad commissioners should be elected instead of appointed may or may not be good, but it was a display of bad taste in him to offer it at the time he did. He has evidently not assumed his equanimity since his defeat for Governor.

A copy of the Jasper (Mo.) BEE reached this office this week, and we find at the mast head: G. M. Russell, editor and proprietor. Mr. Russell is a newspaper man of long standing, capable and industrious, and if the people of Jasper want a good paper, they can get it by supporting the BEE. Mr. Russell was with the PRESS five years, and we know whereof we speak.

Col. Franks at Washington.

Mr. E. T. Franks was at Washington last week to assist Col. H. H. Houston in his fight for the Paducah post office. A Times correspondent interviewed our distinguished politician, and among other things he said:

"I believe Col. Houston will receive the appointment, because he is in every way qualified for the place, and because he has earned it by reason of faithful service to the Republican party. It is by appointing such party workers that the President will strengthen the Republican party in the South."

Mr. Franks says there is no question but that Harrison will have a solid delegation from Kentucky at the next national convention.

Damage Suits.

In the Superior Court yesterday William Braysor filed a complaint against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company to recover $5,000 damages by reason of injuries sustained by the plaintiff in account of being thrown by a wagon which was struck by one of the company's engines and through the carelessness of the company's employees.

In the same court Artemus Crofts asks the court to grant him judgment in the sum of $500 against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company for damages sustained by reason of carelessness of the company's employees, which resulted in a collision of one of the company's engines with a wagon while crossing the company's track on Washington avenue.

Samuel Weed through his attorneys, J. S. and C. Buchanan, commenced proceedings against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company, asking damages in the sum of $500, for injuries sustained by a collision of the company's engine with a wagon being driven across the Ohio Valley track on Washington avenue, which the plaintiff alleges was the fault of the company's employees. —[Evansville Courier.]

There is talk of building business houses on the West side of the public square. Marion is large enough to spread a little in that respect.

Both Sides Waiting for Overtures

The Courier-Journal says: "Although United States Marshall Burchett and his force have retired from

Lyon county, and the matter of lev-

ing executions in the Quinalt case has been dropped, a compromise has not yet been secured. When Maj.

Burchett returned, a compromise of the celebrated suit was thought to be at hand, but it seems that it is not.

One side appears to be waiting for the other to make an offer. The citizens of Lyon county, being masters of the situation, are pursuing the even tenor of their way, and when the question of a compromise is spoken of they will consider any offer made by the bondholders.

In other words, they know they want to make the bondholders do the walking. On the other hand the bondholders say that if the taxpayers can not pay the full amount of their obligation they will listen to an offer of compromise for what they are able to pay. A proposition was made some time ago by the bondholders,

but the taxpayers said the amount asked was more than they could pay.

Thus the matter rested, and Marshal

Burchett was sent down to Lyon county to serve the executions. As it is known, he was unsuccessful.

Just how long it will be before the matter is settled no one can tell."

PREY OF AN EAGLE.

Indian Child Carried Aloft and

Down to Death.

What is the matter with the Monitor man at Sheridan?

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 6.—

John Cowdridge, a Chippewa Indian

living on the shore of Echo Lake,

started out yesterday to guide a party

that was moving over into Canada.

His only child, a girl baby, was on the outside of the hut near the door,

his wife being on the opposite side of the little dwelling. When the Indian father and the party had proceeded half a mile or so they saw an enormous bald eagle circling over the edge of Echo Lake, near the hut.

There was no thought of danger to the child, but their sportsmen's instinct prompted them to turn back to get a shot at the bird. As they turned to retrace their steps, the eagle made a sudden swoop to the earth. The Indian quickened his pace, and reached his cabin in advance of the white men. When they arrived at the lake they saw a dead

eagle of unusual size and formidable appearance lying upon the ground,

and near it the Indian babe, torn and bleeding and also dying.

The scream and rush of the great bird upon the child brought the Indian mother upon the scene. Her baby was already several feet in the air, held by the ugly talons of the eagle. The child was evidently too heavy for the bird, and was dropped to the earth, and the fall caused its death. The eagle made another plunge for its victim, but was fought off by the mother, who succeeded in driving it away. As the bird arose

in the air it was shot by the father, who had arrived too late to save the child. The white men had no difficulty in securing the eagle, and they will have it stuffed.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Congress to be Asked for a Big Appropriation.

Chicago has raised $11,000,000, but wants $7,000,000 more—Salaries to be Cut—John McEnery Dropped Out.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Congress is to be asked to loan the Wm. C. Columbian Exposition $5,000,000 at least and perhaps $7,000,000. That is the decision of the National Commissioners, and the Chicago directors are giving them strong moral support. For two days a special committee has been holding sessions, discussing the best policy to pursue in getting the loan. This committee is composed of Gen. T. S. Clark, of West Virginia, and G. V. Mossey, of Delaware, both influential members of the National Commission; Director General Davis and Directors Gage, Baker and Jeffery. All are agreed that Congress ought to make the loan, but how to get it is the question now under discussion. Many of the members declare that Congress should make an outright appropriation of at least $5,000,000. They agree that the United States has more at stake than the city of Chicago, and say it should be liberal and magnanimous. $6,000,000 have already been secured by popular subscription, and the city of Chicago has issued bonds for $5,000,000 more.

Another deep cut is to be made in the salaries of officials of the World's Columbian Commission. If the program mapped out yesterday is adopted President T. W. Palmer will surrender his salary of $5,000 a year and receive nothing but his traveling expenses; Col. James A. McKenzo, Vice Chairman of the Executive Committee, also will be denied a salary of $5,000 a year, and George Miles, chief clerk of Director General Davis, will lose a salary of $8,000 per annum. This will reduce the expenses of the National Commission about $12,000 a year. By holding no session of the board next April a further saving of $12,500 will be effected, and this will keep the expenditures of the National Commission within the appropriation. At the present rate of paying out money, President Palmer's board would be confronted by a deficiency of $23,240 at the close of the year. Secretary of the Treasury Foster has warned the officials not to create a deficiency. Congress appropriated $5,500 to pay the expenses of the to June 30, 1892, and the commission has been spending money at the rate of $82,740 per annum. Yesterday members of the Finance and Auditing Committee got together and decided that heroic measures were necessary to avoid a deficiency. They prepared a report, which will be sent in to the Commission early during its session this week, recommending that President Palmer, Vice Chairman McKenzo and Chief Clerk Miles be dropped from the salary list and that the Commission hold no further meeting until Congress has made further appropriation for the exposition.

MISSOURI LETTER.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., September 3, 1891.

ED. PRESS.—As I am blessed with the privilege of perusing your paper weekly, learning the local news from all the sections of your balmick, I thought perhaps a short sketch of this place would not be distasteful to your readers.

Poplar Bluff is on the Iron Mountain railroad, seventy-five miles west of Cairo, and is on Black river, one of the most beautiful streams in the state; though small as it is the steamers are coming and going daily.

We have numerous factories; the ice factory not only supplies the town, but ships large quantities to other towns along the road and river. The vaner factory works a hundred hands, many of them young women.

The gallows, upon which Dr. Harben will meet his doom in October, has been erected.

More than a hundred arrests have made in a month upon the charge of gambling, and I am sorry to say that some of the one-Kentucky boys are among the lot, thus departing from the teaching of their mothers. But this does not mean that we have a bad town, for Christianity and temperance number their votaries by the hundreds, and they are doing a grand work.

I am boarding with Sol Boaz, an old citizen of Cittenden, who will shortly make a visit to his native home.

A Kentuckian Believed of His Dad in Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Yesterday L. P. Roquette, a coal miner who lived near Livermore, Ky., came to this place accompanied by a friend. The visited the saloons too frequently, and Roquette went to sleep in a chair in front of a hotel. When aroused by the police the drowsy man claimed that he had been robbed of $1000. A BREAD FAMINE.

The Poor European Crops Make the Outlook in London Very Gloomy.

London, Sept. 2.—The price of bread is rising in London, and the working classes are already beginning to feel the pinch of the distress consequent on deficient harvests. The advance so far is a half-penny on the quarter loaf. People are talking of dear bread during the coming winter, and with the throngs from Russia and Germany that have crowded into the city during the season, it is apparent that charity will be taxed to supply the needs of the London poor. The Salvation Army is increasing its lodgings and food accommodation in preparation for the demands of winter, and notwithstanding the opposition of the church and of the Times, money is flowing in liberally from various quarters to the army exchequer. There is a public sentiment that, however crude the army methods might be, the poor are assured without the red tape that involves many of the London charities.

THE LOTTERY CASES.

Inspector Maynard Thinks the Power of the Company is Broken.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Mr. John C. Maynard, the inspector in charge of the New Orleans district, was at the Post Office Department to day. He has just come from New Orleans where he has completed the work on twenty-five cases against the President of the Louisiana Lottery Company. Mr. Maynard says that the chain of evidence in these cases is complete, and that the lottery company will hardly dispute the facts.

Mr. Maynard considers that these cases will have an important bearing upon the future of the company. He thinks that the power of the company is broken, and says that the business is reduced to such a point that, although they advertise a capital prize of $800,000, yet they do not now sell more than the half of any ticket, so that it is impossible for the full capital prize to be drawn.

Tribute of Respect.
In remembrance of Lucinda Crowell, wife of Rev. W. B. Crowell, we, the undersigned, have been requested to prepare the following:

Lucinda Crowell, nee Clark, daughter of William and Elizabeth Clark, also sister of Doctor J. R. and J. H. Clark, was born March 18, 1824. She was raised and lived in the Piney section of Crittenden County, Ky. She was married to Rev. W. B. Crowell, June 14, 1849, and lived a married life of 42 years, 2 months and 2 days. To this union was born one boy, Monroe, who died February 10, 1879, aged 17 years, 7 months and 26 days. Monroe was a good, religious boy, and now or the other side of the dark stream of death comes his mother home.

The subject of this memoir professed religi on in 1843 and with her husband joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Sugar Grove December 25, 1852. They remained members of said church until 1871, when they moved their membership to Cave Spring, a church of the same denomination. She was a useful member of the church, very enthusiastic for the prosperity of her fellow human beings, and one whose hand was always ready to administer deeds of kindness. Like the rest of the human race she had her imperfections; but we are forced to acknowledge that she was a woman of kind heart and generous nature. Her hospitality was unbounded, and no person took a greater pride in entertaining their friends. Many will be the pleasant memories of those who have enjoyed her kind hospitality. She was 65 years old, yet her death was unexpected, and quite a shock to the community in which she lived. She was only sick a few hours. Her last illness was supposed to be a warning to us to be ready, "for in such an hour as we think not the Son of Man cometh." But we have every reason to hope that the messenger found her dead.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 9, 1891, it pleased God to send the Messenger of Death quickly and called her to come up higher. The call was so sudden it made a solemn impression on us all who heard of it. It is also a warning to us to be ready, "for in such an hour as we think not the Son of Man cometh." But we have every reason to hope that the messenger found her dead.

Besides a number of friends and relatives, she leaves an aged husband whose life is nearing the allotted time—three score and ten years—and whose time according to human nature, can not be many days, months or years at most. But when we realize that it is right for all human to die, and the Lord is ready to take us when our time comes, without the least hesitation of mind we say, "The Lord giveth and He taketh away." "Blessed are they that die in their works do follow them."

Her presence is missed at the family altar.

Her spirit is at the throne of God; Her seat in church is now vacant.

Her body is buried beneath the a. Rev. W. C. M. TRAVIS, JOHN L. REYNOLDS.
